Moroccans Recapture 2 Outposts

Fighting Continues
In Undeclared War
As Truce Talks Fail

ALGIERS (AP) — Crack Moroccan troops have recaptured two Sahara Desert outposts but Algeria vowed today that "the fighting is not stopping."

Talks in Marakech, Morocco, brought no cease-fire in the undeclared border war, and the Algerian negotiators flew back to Algiers.

The Algerians claimed Morocco's ultimate objective is the oasis of Tindouf, an important iron mining center in western Algeria. The village of Tindouf, which has a population of about 1,500, is near the borders of Morocco and Mauritania and about 180 miles southwest of the battle zone.

An outnumbered, poorly equipped Algerian force of about 600 retreated Thursday from Hassi Beida and Tindjoub, the outposts 900 miles southwest of Algiers. Apparently they had changed hands several times since fighting broke out Tuesday.

In a palm grove at Hassi Beida, Moroccan Gen. Ben Omar Driss told Associated Press correspondent Andrew Borowiec his orders were to hold the two posts.

Driss formerly commanded Moroccan troops in the U.N. Congo operation.

Borowiec said nine Algerians captured at Hassi Beida all were less than 18 years old.

The outposts, along the camel route to Tindouf and to Mauritania, placed the Moroccans in control of water wells, vital for survival in the desert.

The Algerians first retreated 10 miles to high ground, then withdrew their main force 40 miles to dig in at Tinfouchy. Associated Press correspondent Paul Davis reported in the first battlefield dispatch from the Algerian side.

City Had Snow About Year Ago—Hot Today

As the temperature soars to another unseasonable high of 82 today, you might "cool off" with the thought that snow fell in an early freeze about a year ago.

The mercury had reached 82 Oct. 17 last year but a week later up to 3½ inches of snow blanketed parts of Columbiana County. Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, registered 2½ inches Oct. 25. The city had a trace.

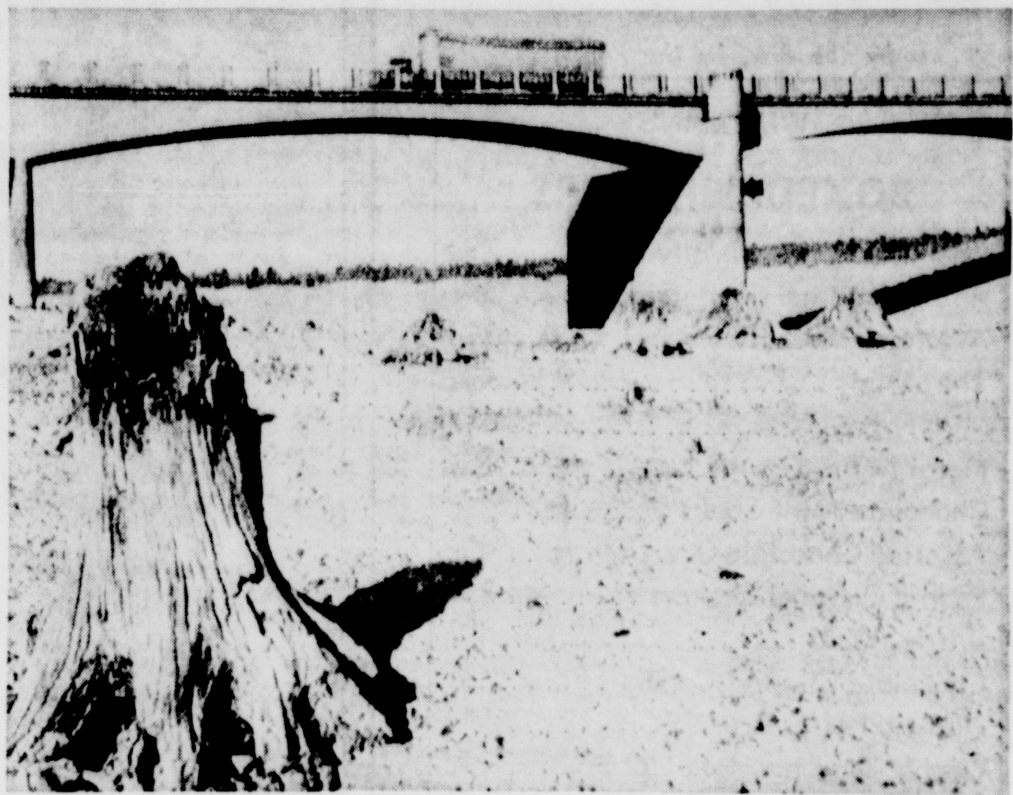

Temperatures will continue about 10 degrees above normal through Monday, followed by a slight cooling trend Tuesday and Wednesday. The five-day forecast says there may be scattered showers possibly by Saturday night and during the first of the week, but it will take more than that to alleviate the severe drought. Today's high range will be 78 to 82 and tonight's low 48 to 54. The downtown had 48 at 5 a.m.

Chester Bridge May Be Closed Wednesday

The Tri-State Asphalt Co. of Martins Ferry said the closing of the Chester bridge is set tentatively Wednesday for resurfacing.

J. W. Lampert, manager, said removal of the old blacktop will start Monday but one-way traffic will be maintained during this operation. In event this cannot be done in one day, then it will be completed Tuesday, with the resurfacing to follow Wednesday. If the removal can be accomplished in one day, then the span will be closed Tuesday for application of the 260 tons of material for the 1,000-foot long roadway.

In any event, there will be advance notice of which day for the closing. The span will be barred to traffic between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. to give the new blacktop time to set, Lampert said.

AND NO RAIN YET. Mud flats and tree stumps are stark evidence of the low water level of Berlin Lake in the area of the Route 224 bridge over the reservoir which serves the Youngstown-Niles district. The lake is 28 feet below normal. The arrow points to the bridge pier level where the lake surface is normally. (UPI Telephoto)

Changed List To Delay City In Filling Job

One Eliminated As Eligible Fireman; Third Name Sought

Elimination of one man's name from the eligibility list and addition of another probably will force a delay until Nov. 1 in filling a vacancy on the fire department, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said today.

Owen said he has been forced to eliminate the name of John Covert of Gardendale Ave., who ranked second on the list certified by the Civil Service Commission, because Covert did not appear for an interview within the specified time.

In such a case, Civil Service rules make it mandatory for the director to ask the commission to certify the name of another man, Owen pointed out. As the man will be required to take a physical examination before his name can be certified, filling of the vacancy probably will be delayed until Nov. 1, Owen said.

The city generally starts its new employees on the 1st or 15th of the month so that they work a full pay period.

The No. 1 spot on the certified list was held by William Kerr of St. Clair Ave., while Carmen Perorazio of Elmtree St. ranked third.

Perorazio now will move up to second place on the list and the man whose name is certified by the commission from its eligible list will become No. 3.

Owen said he tried repeatedly to contact Covert to notify him to appear for an interview, but was unsuccessful. He said Civil Service rules provide Covert may file a protest against removal of his name and show "good cause why" he did not appear for an interview.

The appointment will be made to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of William J. McKeever. A fireman for 15 months, McKeever resigned effective last Tuesday.

Governor Dismisses Aide At Beaver Falls

BEAVER — Ernest V. Kline of Beaver Falls, workmen's compensation referee for Beaver, Washington and Greene Counties, was notified Thursday by Gov. William W. Scranton that his services will be terminated today.

County Republican officials were not available, but no successor apparently has been named to the $10,500 a year patronage post.

Kline was named to succeed Mayor Eli G. Corak, Midland Democrat, when he was appointed a county commissioner to fill the vacancy created by the death of Gordon Camp.

Schools Cut Use Of Water At Wellsville

Physical education classes in which students are given strenuous drills have been curtailed at Wellsville High School in order to eliminate showers and help conserve the dwindling municipal water supply, Supt. Lowell B. Myers said today.

Myers added the water conservation rule applies to all students in the public school system.

Meanwhile, city officials are keeping a close watch on the municipal reservoir along the Old Salineville Road.

Depth of the water at the spillway Thursday afternoon at 1 was 36.76 feet. In the winter months when the reservoir is filled bank-to-bank, the depth at the spillway point is 45½ feet.

Officials, advising city residents to conserve water consumption as much as possible, said the situation is not extremely serious as yet but will be if the long dry spell continues a month or so.

Industries have been asked to conserve water and a ban exists on washing of cars and lawn sprinkling until heavy rainfall arrives.

City firemen responded to an alarm at the home of Mrs. Harry Phillips, 1829 Chester Ave., Thursday night at 6:05 when the furnace began smoking heavily. Firemen removed the ashes from the ash pit and carried the smoking coals from the fire box outdoors.

Injured Youth Critical

WEIRTON — James Dowling, 19, of Aliquippa remains in "critical" condition today in Weirton General Hospital with injuries received in an auto crash Thursday in Hanover Township. A companion, James Jeschke, 19, remains in "satisfactory" condition with multiple injuries.

1,500 Hear Gov. Rhodes

City Attitude Cited In Plant Lure

A proper community attitude is the biggest single factor in encouraging industry to decide upon a plant site, Gov. James A. Rhodes told a crowd of 1,500 Thursday at Memorial Auditorium.

Discussing industrial development at the invitation of the new Community Improvement Corp., the governor declared that a firm seeking a plant site makes a careful study of the average citizen's attitude as well as the cooperation of township, city and county governments.

TO ILLUSTRATE his point, he told the story of a Goodyear Rubber Co. executive who placed a telephone call to the little community of Logan in Hocking County, which his company was considering as a plant site.

The Goodyear official sought to talk with the president of the Logan bank, but instead he was connected with the home of another man by the same name who worked in a brick yard, the governor related.

Instead of brushing off the wrong number, the housewife said: "If you'll give me a moment to put the baby down, I'll look up the telephone number of the bank president for you," the governor related.

That helped establish a feeling of mutual esteem between Goodyear and the village that ended in the new plant being located there, Gov. Rhodes said. And the Goodyear official declared at the plant dedication that the new facility would have been located there for no other reason than the co-operative, friendly attitude shown by the housewife, Gov. Rhodes said.

More States Act To Curb Forest Fires

Blazes Spread As Drought Continues In Many Sections

CHICAGO (AP)—Emergency measures aimed at curtailing the fast-spreading fires across many of the nation's parched forest lands have been taken by more states.

Raccoon Creek Park Closed By Fire Peril

Raccoon Creek State Park was closed at noon today, George Armstrong, superintendent, announced.

Armstrong said he was notified Thursday afternoon by officials in Harrisburg to close the park until further notice because of the danger of fire in the wooded area.

Earlier yesterday, a ban was ordered on open fires or smoking within the park, under the governor's proclamation.

As autumn's severe drought continued, the fire situation, mainly in the Northeast and in sections of the Midwest and South, was critical in many areas.

There appeared no general break immediately in the prolonged dry and unseasonably mild weather. Property and crop damage mounted into the millions of dollars.

Forest fires have been reported in more than a dozen states.

In the East, Massachusetts and Connecticut joined New Hampshire and Vermont in ordering woodlands and brushlands closed to the public because of the dry conditions and the outbreak of scores of fires.

All state forest and park lands in Pennsylvania have been ordered closed to public use of any type, effective at noon today.

The fire danger in York County, Maine, was classified as explosive—the highest rating—and other parts of southern Maine were described as very dangerous. A ban on smoking and open fires remained in effect in southern sections, about 10 per cent of Maine.

In the Midwest, several state forests have been closed in Illinois. In Missouri, there was a ban on all picnic and camp fires in all state parks.

Visitors Are Barred From W. Va. Forests

By The Associated Press
Visitors will be barred from all West Virginia forests this weekend in an effort to avoid a wave of forest fires.

The off-limits order, which affects all state parks, state forests, national forests and other wooded areas, comes at the peak of West Virginia's colorful autumn.

Council Head Resigns Post To Leave City

Charles N. Edwards To Vacate Position Effective Oct. 31

Council President Charles N. Edwards has submitted his resignation to Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, effective Oct. 31, because he plans to make his home in Concord, Calif.

The Council president, now on vacation in the West Coast city with his wife, submitted his resignation to the mayor before departure earlier this week. A Democrat, he was rounding out his second term as Council's presiding officer.

Edwards' departure was unexpected, as he had made no prior public announcement of his plans. His term expires Dec. 31, as he was defeated in a bid for a new term in the primaries in May.

Except for a break of one meeting at the beginning of the current biennium, he had served as Council president since Jan. 1, 1960.

He was named for a two-year term at the 1959 general election, but defeated when he sought a second term.

Safety - Service Director Robert Owen was elected to the Council presidency two years ago. He had been nominated for the post prior to the death of Lee Copenhaver, the original director in the Goodballet administration. He was named director after Mr. Copenhaver's death.

Owen presided at the first meeting of the biennium, then stepped aside. Mayor Goodballet then named Edwards to serve in the post again.

The Council president's vacancy will be filled by the mayor. However, Mayor Goodballet said he will take no action until after the effective date of the resignation at the end of this month.

Edwards, 61, came to East Liverpool in 1923. He is a native of Washington County. He was a Mulberry St. barber for nearly 40 years, first associated with the late Charles Caton and

Queen Elizabeth Appoints Scottish Peer To High Post

LONDON (AP) — Lord Home was named today to be Britain's new prime minister—the man who must try to carry the Conservative party to victory in elections within the next year.

The soft-spoken but incisive foreign secretary, 60, was appointed by Queen Elizabeth II to be her first minister at the urging of retiring Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The choice of the Scottish peer, who advocates a firm but realistic policy toward the Soviet Union, came despite a midnight rebellion within the Tory party. A large segment of Macmillan's own Cabinet fought to the last to block Home's appointment and win the post for Deputy Prime Minister Richard A. Butler, now thwarted for the second time. Macmillan edged him out in 1957.

Resentment centered on Macmillan's decision to pass over Conservative leaders in the House of Commons and select a member of the House of Lords. Home pronounced Home is expected to relinquish his title promptly and seek a seat in the House of Commons in a special election.

Butler leads the liberal wing of the Conservative party. His supporters felt he gave the party a more modern image that was needed for the difficult struggle with the resurgent Labor party in the next general election, to be held by the fall of 1964.

Home himself had clear of the power struggle over the past few days. Friends said he was reluctant to shed his title in order to take over the government.

But Home was all smiles when he drove to Buckingham Palace to see Queen Elizabeth II.

Crowds gathered outside the palace knew at once that the struggle inside the party was over and that Home would become the next prime minister.

"It's Lord Home! It's Lord Home!" came the cry as his car rolled into the palace courtyard. Shortly thereafter came confirmation from Buckingham Palace.

"The Queen has received the Earl of Home in audience and invited him to form an administration."

Although the selection of Home may leave scars on the Conservative party, Macmillan had chosen a man he could trust in the critical field of foreign affairs — and a man well known to Britain's chief ally, the United States.

Home has served Macmillan as foreign secretary since July 1960. He acquired prestige through his efforts to ease East-West tension without surrendering vital Western interests to the Soviet Union.

Macmillan had stunned an important meeting of the Conservative party Oct. 8 by announcing that he was entering a hospital. Butler took over as deputy prime minister.

After a successful operation for removal of an enlarged prostate gland Oct. 10, Macmillan

Urges Big 4 To Work Jointly

New German Chancellor Bids For Reunification

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard bid for reunification of Germany today by urging the Big Four powers that defeated Hitler to work jointly on German affairs until a final peace treaty is signed.

This would amount to revival of conferences that the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France held regularly for a time after World War II.

While expressing firm support of the North Atlantic Alliance, Erhard warned he would not accept any measure that "sanctions or consolidates the unnatural division of our country."

Erhard addressed Parliament on foreign and domestic policy. It was his first speech since he took over the chancellorship from Konrad Adenauer Wednesday.

"We are told that the division of our country is a reality which has to be accepted," Erhard said. "Of course it is a reality, but it is an unbearable one."

Erhard said any new agreement on Berlin must be based on the right of the Western powers to be in the divided city, respect for the will of Berliners and maintenance of free access to Berlin. Like Adenauer, he re-

Roberta Smith Waits Hearing On Probation

A probation hearing was scheduled this afternoon at Lisbon for Miss Roberta Smith, former city water department clerk convicted in June on a larceny charge in connection with water department fund losses.

Miss Smith was found guilty of larceny of $14,189 in a trial on embezzlement and larceny, the jury acquitting her of the embezzlement charge.

A trial for embezzlement of $23,841 of department funds, ended in a hung jury in December.

Berry Institute Set For Washingtonville

LISBON — The Columbia Mahoning County Berry Committee set Jan. 22 for the annual winter Berry Institute when it met Thursday evening at the Salem Farmers National Bank.

Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture, said the all-day affair will be held at the Washingtonville Methodist Church and speakers will be selected to discuss the better berry growing in the two counties.

Rhodes Cites City Attitude

full page advertisements in the Wall Street Journal declaring that "Profit Is Not a Dirty Word In Ohio," the governor said.

The Highway Department makes it a point to co-operate with industry in road relocations so that industrial sites are not bisected needlessly or expansion of present plants is prevented, the governor said.

"LET'S MOVE East Liverpool and Columbiana County ahead!" the governor exclaimed. "We have the resources, the know-how and the ability."

George Wilson, director of industrial development, cited the importance of a "master plan" and community improvement corporations.

Wilson was called forward by the governor to answer a question about a community's efforts to attract industry.

"Creation of a 'master plan' is an absolute must," Wilson declared. "A company seeking a site feels such a plan is a definite asset."

"Organization of a community improvement corporation also is essential," Wilson added. "It's the vehicle most industries will use to locate their plants."

Gov. Rhodes disagreed with a questioner who said East Liverpool has suffered because it needs facilities for higher education.

"YOU HAD a branch of Kent State University here and it never had enough students to support it," the governor said. "It moved to Salem and encountered prosperity."

The questioner replied that "many adults would have signed up, but the courses were not diversified enough to be helpful."

Prompted by State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, who was in the audience, the governor said additional funds will be allocated to Beaver Creek State Forest Park and development of the proposed Highlandtown Lake if Ohioans approve State Issue No. 1 at the Nov. 5 election. It would provide $250,000,000 for higher education, parks, recreation and conservation.

In addition to Wilson, the governor was accompanied by six other members of his Cabinet. They were: Warren Nelson, director of highway safety; Lou-

THE GOVERNOR'S party flew to Wintersville, then came to East Liverpool in an auto caravan on Route 7. The governor and other officials left shortly after the MA appearance to return to Columbus.

Musical selections were furnished by the high school band, directed by Vincent Maola, and the high school choir led by Miss Arletta Helfrich.

A member of the First Church of the Nazarene, he served several terms on its Board of Trustees.

Edwards also had served as president of the Garfield Parent - Teacher Association, president of Barbers Local 343 and as a delegate from the local union to the Ohio State Association of Journeymen Barbers.

George E. Willshaw, councilman-at-large and president pro tem, will serve as Council's presiding officer in Edwards' vacation preceding his resignation's effective date. Council has only one regular meeting scheduled — on Oct. 21 — before the resignation becomes effective.

Willshaw is the Republican nominee for the Council presidency. The Democratic candidate is Arch Smith of McKinnon Ave., who defeated Edwards in the party primaries in May.

If the mayor names a councilman to the vacancy, Council then will choose a replacement for the councilman's seat to serve until Dec. 31.

New Echo For Old Words

Once again the vital ingredients for economic progress in any community have been stated clearly and authoritatively for everyone in East Liverpool and surrounding towns.

Gov. James A. Rhodes in his public appearance at Memorial Auditorium Thursday emphasized "proper community attitude as the biggest factor in encouraging industry to select a plant site."

George Wilson, director of industrial development for the administration, termed a "master plan" and organization of a community improvement corporation as other essentials.

The governor's visit here was beneficial in depicting the state's interest and plans in development and for encouraging the city's leaders in pushing toward their goals.

HOWEVER, THE governor's emphasis on community attitude was an echo of words which have been said and written again and again about our city.

The importance the governor attaches to this factor must certainly call new attention to it from every one who lives here, earns a living here, raises youngsters here, owns property here.

There have in recent months been increasing evidence that East Liverpool is becoming more concerned about its future and more willing to work toward doing something about it.

Council's appropriation of funds for a "master plan" study, and the organization of the Community Improvement Corporation to obtain new industry, along with various civic projects of many other groups, testifies to a new energy in this direction.

THE TIME IS near when more people should become involved in active promotion of the city's present facilities and in improvement projects.

There is less of an indication that the community attitude here should be vastly changed than there is that the attitude has never really been given sufficient overall guidance or an inspired outlet for expression.

Industrial growth cannot help but follow the proper groundwork of community betterment of all facets. We think that groundwork is well under way; it only needs some continually expanding public support and assistance.

Auto Union Has Capitalist Problem

By Victor Riesel

Walter Reuther's proletarian auto union now has some serious capitalist problems. It has piled up the world's biggest strike fund—more than $59 million. And it is getting bigger and bigger—at the rate of some $12 million a year.

This war chest will grow in a style which Reuther and his high command are unaccustomed, if there is no strike when the United Automobile Workers' (UAW) contracts with the auto industry's Big Three expire next July. By that time the strike relief fund will be towering in the region of $70 million.

With that kind of capital, Reuther could run a long walkout just when the national presidential campaign is getting hotter than the Washington weather.

Whether there will be a strike or even a loud argument depends on what has been developing behind closed doors at a series of current secret meetings of union and industry leaders in Detroit. Today they are the most tight-lipped bunch who ever doodled on a green table cloth.

65 to 62 and eventually to 60 years of age.

ALL ALTERNATIVES are explored. The union people, who have prepared themselves in many a skull session and even during full weeks of retreat at summer study camps, throw their ideas on the table. Then the company executives come back with figures on fixed costs.

Consideration of any problem at these "free expression" sessions does not mean that either side is committed ever to act on, or even discuss, the question again. These sessions are merely fact-finding. They are not the actual negotiations which must come early in 1964. But each side will have a mighty firm idea of what the other wants and will be ready to concede or fight when the contracts expire at the end of June.

Both sides not only truly are sworn to secrecy and to refrain from talking for publication but they are also bound not to challenge each other with what has been said at any time.

THIS MEANS that what is said in the study committee sessions cannot be brought up as an argument, or used against anyone during the real negotiating conferences next year. The men just want to find out what the other side thinks and how much it will all cost.

Thus it would be futile to conjecture over the possibility of an auto industry strike in '64. If there is a stoppage, it would cost the union strike fund millions of dollars a week. An unmarried man would receive $15 weekly. A married chap, $20. There are allowances for children and special hardships.

If there is no walkout, and there is another three-year pact, the fund will rocket to much more than $100 million in a few years. This is not a welfare and pension fund which automatically pays out benefits. Instead, it automatically receives $1.25 a month from each UAW member.

So Reuther now is looking for secure investments—which must have a high degree of liquidity as well as security. He wants them to have social impact. And he wants to move quickly because he does not want the fund corroded by inflation.

The money must move with the times. It must earn its keep.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Recently I had the wonderful opportunity to talk and give my views to a teen-age audience at a local church. I am black, the audience was white.

We discussed a letter of mine that was printed in The Review a few weeks ago. I also read them an essay that I wrote. After the reading, the minister and I discussed the racial issue before the audience. But these were young men and women who in my opinion didn't need to hear my message of anger and frustration.

They seemed to me to be the kind of white Americans I would have myself be if I were white. And when they are grown they will probably take their place in a stand for complete freedom. But I can't wait for them to take over leadership when they've grown.

It is not the children who are holding me down but the prejudiced feelings and biased actions of the adults. You, the adult, are standing in my way, keeping me a second-class citizen. I think that you need a little (O.J.T.) On-The-Job-Training at being an American, a real American.

I do not live in the South, I live here. But until I and my colored brothers can enjoy use of any and all public accommodations without discrimination, share an equal opportunity in employment and truly be a first-class citizen of our local area I will point my accusing finger.

If those of you who preach equality and those of you who say that you believe in it would only practice it there would be no need for disturbed young men such as me to write, talk and agitate.

Free me and I can write of love. Make the Statue of Liberty have meaning to me. At the present time it is a Statue of Liberty for whites only.

New Union Thinking

By Arnold Beichman

Europe's Labor Chiefs Hold Changed Views

In Western Europe, a new breed of trade-union leader has emerged out of what was once a Socialist-oriented labor movement. Omnipresent in Britain, Sweden and Germany, this new "man of labor" wouldn't, however, be caught dead saying a kind word about capitalism.

Though he calls himself a Socialist or Social Democrat, he has moved far from Marxist concepts of class struggle, surplus value, dictatorship of the proletariat or other clichés of classical Marxism. If he is at all animated by any central idea, it is the concept of government planning with full participation and consultation of trade unions.

Western Europe's contemporary labor leadership is best exemplified by George Woodcock, British Trades Union Congress (TUC) general secretary, who was interviewed during a New York stopover en route to Mexico and Venezuela.

A HANDSOME, lanky man of 59, with John L. Lewis eyebrows, Woodcock personifies an unusual ingredient in trade unionism best described by the word intellectualism. He is a graduate of Oxford with honors in that university's famed PPE — philosophy, politics and economics.

He also is a graduate from what was once called the working class. As a child, he left grade school to follow his father's occupation as a weaver in the Lancashire textile mills. When described as an intellectual to his face (a term which borders almost on the pejorative in British labor circles it does here in the U.S.), he snorts derisively.

"Yes, I'm an intellectual, an intellectual who had to go to work when I was 12 in a factory at three shillings a week."

When he was in his early 20s, Woodcock won a TUC scholarship to Oxford's Ruskin College and later, another to New College. In 1933, he won a third scholarship for post-graduate work at Manchester University. In 1936, he joined the staff of the TUC as a research economist and in 1960, he was elected to the highest post in British trade unionism, TUC general secretary and spokesman for Britain's 9 million organized workers.

Woodcock's first major crisis was surmounted last month at the 95th national congress when he brought in a report calling for a wage policy tying increases to over-all national productivity.

In short, he attempted to face the ever-recurring conflict between what is described as the economic interest of the nation and the economic interest of industrial workers.

WOODCOCK ARGUED that a labor movement's wage policy should seek to increase real income, as against money income. This could only come about by holding down costs and prices, by ensuring a high level of economic growth through increased industrial productivity.

This in turn would guarantee that Britain's exports could compete with other major exporting nations.

Confronted by Woodcock's report, the convention almost split, but a compromise was fashioned which permits the TUC to stay on "Neddy" and stresses the need for increases in "real income" and "real purchasing power." But like Mr. Facing-Both-Ways, the convention went ahead and adopted a resolution opposing "any form of wages restraint" — but by a tiny majority.

Perhaps it's in this outcome that the Woodcock philosophy of realpolitik has had its victory. He forced upon the British labor movement the realization that it had to make some kind of a decision and if not in 1963, then in 1964.

But this isn't all which distinguishes Woodcock from the "cloth cap" approach to industrial relations. Although he has been a Labor party member for four decades, he has no intention of speaking for that party in the next parliamentary elections.

IN SHORT, when called a political neutralist, he does not repudiate the characterization.

"Our job is a trade-union job," he said. "A man joins a union to get better wages and working conditions, security. Everything we do is aimed at fulfilling these primary functions."

"Certainly I'm a politician, but my responsibilities are to the trade unions and cannot be pre-empted by any political party. We must face all political parties. We are in politics because not everything can be realized through negotiations with employers. We must be interested in international trade, taxes, foreign policy because all these affect the employer as well as the worker."

Strongly anti-Communist, men like Woodcock, Geijer and Rosenberg — and there are others as well — see the industrial future of trade unionism not alone in strikes or meaningless wage demands, but also in accommodation with employers and government as the surest way of achieving full employment and real purchasing power.

Once such a philosophy might have been castigated by European Marxists as "class collaboration" or the "betrayal of working-class interest." Today these taunts would be meaningless, because the concepts are meaningless.

Today a Tory British Cabinet Minister accepts a TUC leader as a genuine spokesman whose advice is to be sought and even heeded.

Man In The Middle

By David Miller

Yugoslavia likes to think of itself as uncommitted to either of the world's two great power blocs. The realities of the situation may be stretched now and then but a picture of modern-day Yugoslavia requires this basic understanding of how Yugoslavs see themselves.

More than anything else, Communist-run Yugoslavia is the creation of one man—Josip Broz Tito—who defied Stalin and got away with it, later accepted the Kremlin's apologies in one of communism's momentous episodes and who now has fulfilled an undisguised ambition by calling on President Kennedy in Washington.

A tough revolutionary, Tito has developed a certain appeal among the underdeveloped countries as a man in the middle. He came to Washington with a record of considerable achievement in both foreign and domestic affairs. But major problems are still unanswered, notably in relations with the United States and in gnawing difficulties at home.

Yugoslavia suffers from what American diplomats feel is "bad image in the United States. Despite its unique place in the Communist world, Yugoslavia is often described as 'just another Communist country,' a point that particularly troubled former American Ambassador George F. Kennan.

UNDER TITO'S hand, Yugoslavia has been built on Communist lines but with some of the features Westerners find most objectionable smoothed over. Power is more decentralized than in the Soviet Union, 8 per cent of the agriculture is privately farmed, the intellectual and economic emphasis is toward the West and so, unquestionably, is the mood of the people.

Although guided by Marxist philosophy, Yugoslavia is not a member of the Soviet bloc's version of NATO.

Yugoslavia's armed forces are equipped mostly with U. S. arms acquired either through an $8 million military aid program ended at Yugoslavia's request in 1957 or through later purchases of obsolete or surplus equipment.

Yugoslavia has obtained observer status in the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance (the Soviet bloc's answer to the European Common Market), but only, Belgrade spokesmen are quick to add, to keep abreast of long-range planning in potential markets. Yugoslavia also holds observer or associate status in Western economic groups and is interested in the Common Market.

Yet Yugoslavia, despite its leanings toward the West, recognizes Communist East Germany and perpetrates many of the limitations on individual freedom abhorred in the West.

IT SHOULD BE remembered that Yugoslavia is a long way from Western ideas of a democratic state. There is only one political party—the Communist. But Western influence is evident. American, British, French, and Italian films are seen in Belgrade. English-language paperback books on the American Constitution are available. The U. S. government maintains libraries and reading rooms, though none is allowed to display books on the Soviet Union or Communism.

Gov. Scranton Wins The Fall

Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton is making such an earnest attempt to wrestle with a slippery proposition that he deserves sympathy.

He wants to pin down the idea that presidential candidates are made, not born. No one ever is drafted for a candidacy unless he has made it known he wants to be a candidate.

Thus, there is no such thing as a bona fide draft. No man ever is tapped for a presidential race without soliciting the tap.

Gov. Scranton says he is not a candidate, would buck any effort to draft him as a candidate and has no intention of changing his mind. He says, in effect, he wants his name removed from all lists of possibilities for the Republican presidential nomination because he wants no part of the stop-Goldwater strategy being cooked up in various areas of the Republican camp.

Gov. Scranton, in our opinion, has pinned down his proposition.

This is a significant move in pre-convention-year maneuvering.

Two Republican possibilities have maneuvered themselves out of contention—Gov. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Gov. Rockefeller of New York, the former because he wanted to be out of contention, the latter because he miscalculated the effect of his divorce and remarriage and the fading appeal of his brand of Republicanism.

Suspended Animation In RFD

As often as not, drought is only a remote tragedy to urbanites, like a brush fire in California, a flood in Italy, a crop failure in China. People read about it and hope tomorrow will be another nice day so they can leave their raincoats at home.

Outside Megalopolis, there's nothing remote about drought. This fall's weather tragedy is an intimate and grim as the winter wheat that hasn't germinated and may fail, pastures that have been burnt to cinders and a corn crop that could have used the finishing touch of a few showers before leaves fried and husks turned brittle.

In the country, prolonged drought is a nagging worry about wood lots and fence rows that need cleaning out—but not by fire that would burn fence posts too.

It is wondering about new trees that haven't had time to establish roots; whether they will go into Winter with enough vitality to last until Spring.

It is keeping an eye on the dwindling pond that represents fire protection and an ear cocked for trouble with the pump drawing up an ever-falling supply of underground water.

It is feeling depressed by a landscape that has turned gray and brown before its time, like someone stricken with grave illness that has drained away natural color.

Appeals for caution are everywhere. Fire must be averted until the rains come. The good earth needs all the help it can get. No one must add to its misery needlessly. Be kind to it.

Goodbye Forever

Long before the tragic 114-day newspaper strike in New York City ended, it was a certainty the strikers were going to kill one and possibly two of the papers that employed them.

The first victim is the New York Mirror. Hearst Corp.'s morning tabloid. Its 1,400 employees are thrown into the job market, along with hundreds of other newspaper people whose jobs have been destroyed by practices that couldn't have been more ruinous if that had been the intent.

Of course it wasn't the intent. It was the result. No one ever declared he intended to destroy an employer by boosting his costs and driving him to the wall. But it has happened dozens of times in the United States—and the destruction of the New York Mirror is the latest example.

The paper had one chance to survive—to keep its costs low and circulation high. It lost that chance when its income was cut off for 114 days at the height of its advertising season. Its circulation was bob-tailed after the strike while its costs were boosted.

Goodbye forever to the Mirror. Goodbye forever to 1,400 more newspaper jobs.

By Truman Twill

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Let's loosen our collars and get down to rock-bottom on industrial employment.

It isn't turning out the way it was supposed to.

We once had the idea everybody would have a job if we manufactured all we needed. Now we're manufacturing more than we can use and jobs aren't keeping pace.

Jobs aren't being created by manufacturing and industry. They are not even holding their own. We've never made so many fancy automobiles, but we aren't using the manpower the auto industry once required and it's the same story everywhere.

It's an old story now, but no one knows how it is going to come out. There's no way to look at the end of the book, because the end hasn't been written.

This has led to a lot of aimless thrashing around, because everybody can speak freely; there are no facts to refute their statements. But a few things are obvious.

WE ARE NOT going to retrain displaced workers to any avail, because the jobs for which we'd retrain them will have been affected by automation, too.

We're not going to get rid of joblessness by expanding enterprise. The most we'll be able to do in this respect is hold our own. We'll keep pace with the population increase if we're lucky.

So what will we do with people who have nothing to do?

Industrial employment was going to be the answer to all problems—the factory, the mill, the mine. This is what we're going to have to change our minds about. Industrial employment is not the answer to the problem of chronic unemployment.

The answer is showing up in statistics about the kind of jobs that are on the increase. We are going to find employment for millions who once would have landed on industrial payrolls in places they never dreamed of.

Let me make some predictions.

WE ARE GOING to have enough policemen in our cities to keep order.

We're going to have enough people to keep our cities clean. There are going to be enough clerks in stores to take care of customers.

We are going to turn inward and do a better job of taking care of human needs. People will live better because there will be specialists to help them.

I think there will be a revival of domestic service, a job some people can do well even though they cannot operate automated processes.

This is the way it will be, I think. And it isn't too hard to think so, once you quit believing industrial jobs are the only way out of the dilemma. We might as well depend on farming to take up the slack.

What happened to farming was mechanization. What happened to manufacturing was automation. The effect is the same—more stuff with less labor. So now we must turn to things that neither can be mechanized nor automated.

Regards to the family from your aunt and me.

Repairs Completed In Water Line Break

A water department crew completed repairs Thursday afternoon to a 10-inch main on E. 6th St. where water had been turned off for business places, including at least one restaurant for about an hour yesterday.

Donald T. Duke, superintendent, said a plumbing contractor discovered water leaking from the big main and notified the department.

A corporation stop had blown out on the line, Duke said, and it apparently had been leaking for some time. Because of the sandy soil, the water did not come to the surface, he explained.

The contractor had excavated a section of the street while installing a new service line when he discovered the leaking water, Duke said.

The water crew today replaced a valve in the main near Market St. which developed a leak when the water was turned off yesterday morning.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Dear Heloise: How many of your readers have ever used discarded nylon stockings for pillow stuffing? It's absolutely terrific.

Wash and sort your light-colored stockings and cut down the back of the stockings removing the seam. Then stuff your pillows with the stockings.

These pillows can be washed in the washing machine, run through the wringer and dry quickly. They are always "springy", never get musty and are a delight to use. It takes lots of stockings to stuff a pillow, so you girls start saving now!

The beauty of using stockings to stuff pillows is that no matter what condition the stocking is in, they can be used for this purpose.

These make luscious bed pillows!

N.

DEAR HELOISE: If you wax the inside and outside of metal wastepaper baskets, they will not rust and are far easier to wipe clean. Naturally, for quick and neat emptying, a paper bag is placed inside of them.

DEAR HELOISE: When there is a real hole or worn out spot in any garment, (even in a sheer fabric) stitch a piece of your famous nylon net to the back, and then mend or darn with added ease! It makes a perfect patch. Material doesn't pucker.

DEAR LADIES: Did you know that you could take a piece of thin plastic wrap...cut it to fit the bottom of your silver tray and then put your deviled eggs on it for your parties and it won't even show? Try it, it's so!

And it won't tarnish the silver! Use this method for all silver trays and protect them. Especially the acid foods (which eat silver) such as pickles, olives, etc.

DEAR HELOISE: To mothers with growing daughters, whose waistlines are always changing...

Thanks for all of your interest in us "slaves." Three cheers for you. Love, love, love.

Baptism, Penance, Matrimony

Vatican Council Votes Changes In Sacraments

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted qualified approval today to changes in the Roman Catholic sacraments, such as baptism, penance and matrimony.

The changes will permit use of modern languages in the rites and will give extreme unction a new name, "anointing of the sick."

Proponents say such changes will make the sacraments mean more to Catholics.

The council fathers — cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops, bishops and other prelates from around the world — voted for the changes in approving the third chapter of a council schema on liturgy, or public worship.

Only 30 of 2,214 prelates voted against the chapter. But outright approval came from just 1,130. The other 1,054 gave approval but with reservations.

The result was that the chapter failed to get a definite two-thirds majority of 1,477.

The council already had approved 10 amendments to the chapter, one by one, by overwhelming majorities earlier in the week.

But the suggestions made by those who voted approval with reservations — "placet juxta modum" — now must go to the liturgy commission for further work and amendments.

The council then must approve the amendments, but no new vote is needed on the full chapter, which is regarded as approved.

A third majority vote of "placet" and "placet juxta modum" approves a chapter.

City Man Convicted In Junk Yard Entry

Charles Edward Weyand, 19, of Dale St. was found guilty by a Common Pleas Court Jury Thursday of burglary of the office and warehouse of the Caplan Junk Yard on the River Rd. July 6. The panel deliberated less than half an hour.

Weyand was indicted by the September Grand Jury after he was picked up with material in his car from the office and junk yard. Police had noticed the car at the Caplan gate. He tried to get away but he was apprehended about 100 feet away.

Atty. William S. Foulks, defense counsel, waived the three-day period to file for new trial and requested a probation investigation, which Judge Joel Sharp ordered.

$10,000 Fund Provided For City Payrolls

Council gave unanimous approval Thursday night to an emergency ordinance allocating $10,000 out of income tax revenue to enable the city to meet street department payrolls for the balance of 1963.

Councilman George E. Willshaw, finance committee chairman, said the supplemental appropriation will go a long way toward meeting the street crew's payrolls through Dec. 31.

But it may be necessary to provide an additional smaller amount toward the close of the year, particularly if wintry weather leads to overtime work for the crews, he said.

Street department payrolls have been averaging $3,500 to $3,600 every two weeks.

Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate said the street department appropriation was about $1,000 short of the amount required for the payroll for the first half of October.

Council arranged the special meeting last night to provide the funds because the city payroll checks are due to be disbursed Saturday.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen called attention to the depleted street department fund several months ago. After consultation with the director, Council promised additional funds would be provided, if available, before the end of the year so that the department could continue operations with its full crew.

Council originally had scheduled the special session for 11 last night, but changed the meeting time to 7:30. The session had been set for 11 because Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. was scheduled to work the 3-11 shift at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Most of the world lives in darkness

More than half the countries of the world live under a partial or complete black-out of news, through censorship. The people of these countries have lost a guiding light to freedom — the complete, true knowledge of all that is happening in the world.

The countries have lost their freedom of the press because their governments know that what Thomas Jefferson said was true: "When the press is free and every man able to read, all is safe." The leaders of these countries know that suppressing news suppresses not just the people's voice-in government, but the people themselves.

In our nation, freedom of the press and public education were made an integral part of our way of life, because our Founding Fathers, also, knew that Thomas Jefferson's statement was true. And they planned our government to rest in the hands of the people.

The job of making all of the news available to every man who can read rests mainly upon our newspapers. Day in and day out, they are able to report the news completely, as only newspapers can deliver it!

And the people of our nation want not only accurate news, but all of the news. The proof: Since 1920, during a period which introduced both radio and television, newspaper sales more than doubled — every day over 60 million copies of 1,800 daily newspapers are circulated. That's more copies than the number of families in our nation.

To keep up with this demand for news, the newspaper industry has been continually working to improve their service — by introducing the most up-to-date communications and production methods.

So, while most of the world lives in darkness our newspapers serve as a light of freedom, making a big difference in people's lives.

Wellsville Bride, Husband Residing In New Brighton

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond John Reeseck have returned from a honeymoon at Niagara Falls and Canada and are residing in a newly-furnished apartment at New Brighton, following their marriage the morning of Sept. 21 at 11:30 o'clock in St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church of Beaver Falls.

The bride is the former Miss Merry Lou Lambright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lambright, 1300 Commerce St., Wellsville, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reeseck of Beaver Falls.

The double-ring ceremony at High Mass was performed by Fr. W. E. Mannion, pastor, before an altar banked with gladiolus, mums and ferns. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Alencon lace, fashioned with a square neckline, long-pointed sleeves and a Basque bodice. The lace overskirt, caught with rosettes, was designed with alternating tiers of nylon lace and cascaded into a chapel train.

Her taffeta pillbox of lace medallions, re-embroidered with seed pearls, held a fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade of roses and stephanotis with the satin streamers tied in lovers' knots. Her pearls were the gift of the bridegroom. In observing the traditions, her blue lace garter was the gift of Mrs. James Anderson.

Mrs. Margaret Mick was maid of honor and Miss Kathy Wilson bridesmaid. They wore satins in gowns, styled with detachable floor-length overskirts. Mrs. Mick appeared in blue and Miss Wilson in gold.

Their velvet Dior bows and theater veils were made by Miss Julia Lambright of Pittsburgh, aunt of the bride. They carried Colonial bouquets of yellow and gold mums. The white gloves were gifts of the bride.

Al Hoschar was best man. Ushers were James Reeseck, brother of the bridegroom, and William Hammon.

The bride's mother chose a pink brocade sheath and the Romans and Philipians. Mrs. Nancy McCoy, Mrs. Ruby Heldman and Mrs. Raylene Thomas participated.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: There is a girl in our crowd who thinks she is you. Now she wants us to call her "Ann." (All of a sudden she remembered Ann is her middle name.)

This girl reads every word you write and she tries to talk as you do. She even tries to wear the same hairdo. Worst of all, she gives everybody advice on how to run their lives. Nobody asks her but she thinks she is an authority on every subject.

Is there something you can do about this imitator? She is not doing your image any good out here. In fact we think she is hurting it. Please rush us some of YOUR advice. We are sick of HERS.—BLOOMFIELD BUNCH.

Dear Bunch: When "Ann" starts to write a column under my name please let me know. Until then I can't do anything about her except be flattered that she wants to be me.

Challenges Advice

Dear Ann: You failed to give your usual sensible reply to "Distressed Mother" who wrote about her 16-year-old pregnant daughter. I was shocked when you said the parents should not insist on marriage and that the girl should "go it alone."

Why should she go it alone? She didn't get into the mess alone. If my daughter was in a family way, believe me I'd drag the boy to the preacher's by the scruff of the neck if necessary.

Every child is entitled to both a mother and a father. Too many irresponsible boys are running loose, getting one girl after another in trouble. Your namby-pamby, permissive ideas encourage such behavior. If young people were made to understand that pregnancy means marriage they wouldn't use sex as a plaything.

Print this — if you dare. — SPEAKER OF THE TRUTH.

Dear Speaker: Sorry, the advice stands. Marriage should not be degraded by employing it as punishment for irresponsible behavior. And getting married to give a child a name is not a good enough reason either. Marriage makes sense only when two people love each other and want to spend the rest of their lives together.

A boy who is dragged to the altar, kicking and screaming, already has one foot in the divorce court. In my opinion, it is far better not to marry than to be legally chained to a man who doesn't want you.

Sister-In-Law Slobs

Dear Ann: Last night my husband and I had dinner at his mother's house. His two sisters and their husbands were invited, too. Sam's mother cooks Hungarian style, from soup to nuts. I'll bet there were 175 dishes and 80 pieces of silverware to wash.

After dinner my mother-in-law said she was tired and wanted to let everything sit until the next morning. I told her to rest and that Zelda and Myrtle and I would clean up. With that I went into the kitchen and put on an apron. Zelda and Myrtle just sat.

I called to them twice and got no response. I did all the dishes alone while they were plopped in the living room, talking to the men.

On the way home I told Sam I thought his sisters were a couple of lazy slobbers. He defended them — saying they probably didn't hear me.

Was I wrong not to make more of a point of it? Please advise for next time. Thanks a lot. — PANAMA HATTIE.

Dear Hattie: You should indeed have made a stronger point of it. Next time hand each slob (I mean sister-in-law) a dish towel and tell them that those who eat must work.

Confidentially

TO WILL PRACTICE MAKE PERFECT? Not always. Sometimes practice merely results in a repetition of the same mistakes. Ask for some guidance.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Driver Fined, Jailed 5 Days On 2 Charges

Paul N. Lee, 46, of Nashville, Tenn., was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to two concurrent five-day terms in City Jail when he pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court to two charges filed by police as an aftermath of a traffic accident Wednesday night on Dresden Ave. at 6th St.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff imposed the $200 fine and a five-day term on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol and a concurrent five-day sentence on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Police arrested Lee 25 minutes after a mishap in which the Tennessee man's pickup truck hit the rear of a car driven by Daniel T. Dobbs, 47, of Paul's Ln.

Two other drivers were fined today by Judge Chertoff and a third forfeited a bond.

William Campbell, 77, of Granville, W. Va., was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of passing over a double yellow line on a curve on Route 30 at Cannons Mills. Campbell was cited at 8:55 this morning by the State Highway Patrol, which reported he passed a gasoline tanker truck.

Jay C. Brown, 668 Lincoln Ave., was given a suspended $10 fine, but ordered to pay $7.50 costs, after he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating an auto without a driver's license. Cited Wednesday morning on Mulberry St., Brown told the judge his operator's permit expired a week ago, but he has obtained a new one in the meantime.

Joe L. McClure, 29, of Jackson, Ohio, forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. He was cited by the patrol Thursday at 4:30 p.m. on Route 7.

NEGLEY — Open house will be held by the Parent-Teacher Organization Monday night at 7 at the Negley School, to be followed by a business session and refreshments.

Firemen Set Fund Canvass In Glenmoor

Glenmoor volunteer firemen decided to purchase equipment for a new tanker truck at their meeting Thursday night in the fire hall, and will begin a canvass of the community to finance the project.

The equipment includes a 1,000-gallon tank, pump, tank light, penetrator-type siren and other items to outfit a new GMC chassis purchased earlier. The chassis and cab cost $3,000, while cost of the other equipment is $3,439, purchased from the Sutphen Fire Equipment Co. of Columbus, represented by Roy Ricker of the Austintown fire department.

Firemen plan to canvass the community, perhaps starting today, to raise funds to finance part of the cost of the new 1,000-gallon tanker truck. It will replace a 1941 model tanker. Those taking part in the solicitation will wear badges and carry identification cards, and all donors will be given receipts. Firemen warned that the Glenmoor area was solicited last week by an unauthorized collector who said he represented the fire department.

Carl Lee is chairman of the canvass committee. Warren Rogers, assistant chief, Kenneth Mills and Harry Reckner formed the committee that made arrangements to purchase the new tank truck. Divine Banks, president, presided and 31 attended.

Court Names 25 More For Jury Service

A supplemental venire of 25 names was drawn Thursday in Municipal Court as prospective jurors for trial of a civil action Monday in which the city of Chester seeks judgment for $248.93 against Ronald W. Orr, 644 Minerva St.

The first venire of 25 was drawn Oct. 9. However, Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor was able to obtain service on only 13 of the prospective panel. Others had died, moved outside the court's jurisdiction or were unavailable for other reasons.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff then ordered the supplemental venire drawn to assure that a jury could be empaneled.

The city's action contends the defendant defaulted on a note he signed to cover the cost of repair of a fire hydrant at 1st St. and Columbia Dr., damaged in a 1961 traffic accident. The jury trial was requested by the defendant.

The additional prospective jurors are:

William A. Merchant, 255 Moore St., Joseph E. Wetzel, 923 May St., Ruth Beaver of Bluff St., Sanders Firestone of Manor Ln., Alice Moore, 901 Fairview St., Alice I. Walton, 209 Walnut St., Mary E. Cunningham, 721 E. 4th St., Grace E. Manning, 608 Grove Alley, Andrew G. Hughes, 1115 Ohio Ave., Willie Joe Jones Jr., 1216

Most Devastating Storm Recorded In Caribbean Area

Birth Of Hurricane Flora Traced

A tropical disturbance is formed and starts spinning westward over the Atlantic on Sept. 16, 1963, 3,000 miles southeast of Florida. It develops into Hurricane Flora, the most devastating storm recorded in the Caribbean area. The following traces its birth, growth and effects.

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Staff Writer

The day: Thursday, Sept. 26, 1963. The exact time: Unknown. The place: The tropical Atlantic, 3,000 miles southeast of the Florida coast.

The day is hot, sultry, oppressive. The wind blows in fitful gusts. The heavy sea is gray and sluggish as molten lead.

A whiff of warm, damp air rises from the sea, like smoke drifting up a chimney. Other air takes its place and is caught in the updraft. Very, very slowly, an air column grows.

Rising, the warm air expands and cools. The water in it condenses and falls. Heat is released, adding energy to the thing that has formed.

Affected by the spinning of the earth, the air begins to revolve around a hollow center.

Erratically, the darkening column begins to drift westward with the trade winds.

Orbiting over the South Atlantic on Sept. 26, the Tiro 7 weather satellite photographed a poorly organized circular motion in a cloud mass.

Forecasters mark this down as an "area of suspicion" and plan to keep an eye on it.

SUNDAY, Sept. 29
6 p.m. The captain of a ship 350 miles east of Trinidad reports he is encountering light squalls and rising seas. His barometer is falling.

A hurricane hunter plane is readied at Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, for a flight the next morning.

MONDAY, SEPT. 30

10 a.m. The hurricane hunter thrusts his plane through the "wall of the eye" of a small but tightly wound and "very dangerous" hurricane. It is moving fast toward the island of Tobago.

Tobago has two hours to prepare. The eye of the hurricane reaches the coast at noon.

Houses collapse under the 100-mile-an-hour winds. Torrential rain triggers floods. Towering tides bury the beaches. Seventeen islanders die.

TUESDAY, OCT. 1

In Haiti, the Negro nation on the island of Hispaniola, the sound of the sea is subtly changing. From far out comes a single long, low swell. It hits the shore of the Tiburon Peninsula with an unexpected boom. Slowly, another comes, and another.

Flora, still far away, is growing more violent.

1 p.m. The waves are breaking high over the coast of Hispaniola. The weather remains calm. Wisps of cirrus clouds spread a pale, milky haze over the sky.

Midnight: A swirling breeze intrudes on the stillness and rustles the palm fronds in Haiti.

The air is charged with electricity. Breathing seems difficult.

THURSDAY, OCT. 3

8 p.m. The wall of the eye, a solid barrier of water and wind whirling savagely in toward the calm center of the hurricane, crosses the coast between Aquin and Cotes de Fer.

Funneling down the canyons between mountain ranges, gusts reach 200 miles an hour.

Solid sheets of rain turn rivers and streams into torrents. Crashing down the mountain sides, they push the crops, even the soil, into the sea.

FRIDAY, OCT. 4

1 p.m. Flora slams into Cuba's Oriente Province. Now it is the biggest hurricane in history. It torments the seas for a thousand miles, from the Bahamas to Puerto Rico.

SATURDAY, OCT. 5

A gigantic high pressure system to the north stops Flora over Cuba.

11 a.m. Flora wanders aimlessly westward, is blocked again by high pressure over the Gulf States.

SUNDAY, OCT. 6

The hurricane turns southwest back into the Caribbean, lashing Camaguey and Oriente provinces.

MONDAY, OCT. 7

The storm stalls between the cities of Camaguey and Santiago de Cuba. Never has a single area taken such a sustained beating from a hurricane.

TUESDAY, OCT. 8

After four days of fantastic rain, floods have risen to tree-top level in Eastern Cuba. Some areas never touched by floodwaters become inland seas.

1 p.m. At last, the storm moves northeast off the north-east Cuban coast.

Flora is racing toward her death over the cold waters of the North Atlantic.

Now relief workers can pick their way through the mud and debris. Gradually, the awful tale unfolds:

In Haiti: More than 5,000 dead. No really accurate count is possible. Many bodies are in the sea or under the mud.

In Cuba: More than 1,000 dead. Fidel Castro's Communist regime has suffered an economic disaster.

Flora takes her place in history—the most deadly storm ever to howl out of the tropical Atlantic. The old death record of 6,000, set by the Galveston hurricane of 1900, has been exceeded.

6 will be Mrs. Russell Albright of E. Lincoln Way.

The Thursday Night Club was entertained Wednesday evening by Mrs. Charles Reynolds of Sherman St.

Guests were Mrs. Olive Malone and Mrs. Georgia Hogue. Game prizes went to Mrs. Hogue and Mrs. Eugene McLaughlin.

The club will dine out Nov. 7.

Kiwanians Told Of Master Plan

The purpose of a "master plan" in shaping the future development of East Liverpool was outlined by Don Eckert, chairman of the City Planning Commission, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Eckert pointed out recent steps toward obtaining the Comprehensive Plan—Council's allocation of funds and the commission's preparations to award a contract for an engineering study.

But he said a lot of co-operation from people in the community and a lot of hard work will be needed before the goal is achieved.

Eckert was introduced by Alex Kidd.

County Health Board To Convene Monday

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Health will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the law library with a number of matters awaiting action, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, health commissioner.

Dr. F. G. Kravec, director of the Tuberculosis Control Clinic, will discuss recommendations made recently for the clinic to handle all TB cases in the county.

A report also is due concerning the abatement of odors at the Nease Chemical Co. at Salem, which was ordered to take remedial action at the last meeting.

Sends Railroad Bill

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — For cleaning 2,000 feet of railroad right-of-way brush here to prevent brush fires, the city has sent the New York Central Railroad a bill for $2,346. The city says it took 11 men 10 days to do the job and failure of the railroad to pay the bill will result in the amount being placed against the company's tax duplicate.

Club Members Guests

Amie Eight Club members were guests of Mrs. Tom Washam of E. Chestnut St. Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Kenneth Williams and Mrs. John Rodu received prizes.

Hostess for the meeting Nov. 6.

Intruder Gets $150 In Coins School Board To Hear Aide On Work Law

A belated report was filed with police Thursday afternoon on the theft of $150 to $200 in old coins from a downtown restaurant.

Mrs. Ann Sfakis, 704 Almont St., told police the coins were taken by an intruder who entered Ann's Restaurant, 517 Market St., sometime between 11:30 a. m. Oct. 7 and 1:45 p. m. Oct. 10. The restaurant was closed at that time because of the death of Steve Sfakis, the former proprietor, she said.

The burglary was reported to Patrolman Paul Lemal, desk officer. Patrolmen Orin C. Smith and Jerry Adkins made the initial investigation and a further probe was made by Capt. R. H. Pyle and Patrolman Kenneth Mooney.

The coins were removed from a metal can and a brown sack hidden in the restaurant kitchen, police said.

The intruder apparently entered through an air vent on the west side of the second floor, but how he gained access to the upper story has not been determined, officers said.

Retarded Children's Group Will Convene

The Beaver County Chapter of the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the William Lintz Sheltered Workshop, 117 Brighton Ave., Rochester.

The program, "Religious Education for the Mentally Retarded," will feature the Rev. Willard Agee and Fr. John Kirk, chaplains at Polk State School and Hospital for the retarded.

George Snyder, first vice president and program committee chairman, said invitations are being sent to all county clergy and their congregations. The meeting is open to the public.

School Board To Hear Aide On Work Law

Robert L. Drury, legal counsel for the Ohio School Boards Association and the Ohio Education Association, will explain a new state law establishing a 40-hour week for all non-teaching school personnel at the meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

Drury will meet with superintendents of other school districts in the county Monday afternoon at Westgate to discuss the law which became effective Sept. 16.

He was invited to address the East Liverpool board after Supt. Paul H. Blair said he wanted the law clarified before reaching any decision.

Two interpretations have been made with Drury maintaining the law covers only custodians, clerks and bus drivers hired after the Sept. 16 effective date. The Ohio Association of Public School Employees, an organization of non-certificated personnel, argues the law applies to both present and future employees.

Custodians, the only ones in the East Liverpool system who would be affected, now work 44 hours a week. Under their interpretation, they would receive four hours' overtime or compensatory time off.

The school board was told at its meeting Oct. 7 that a court fight may result if it decides the law covers only new employees.

The New York Yankees had a team batting average of .170 in the 1963 World Series.

G. I. Zollinger Accepted

City Native, 65, To Begin Training In Peace Corps

At an age when most men are looking forward to retiring in slippers to a comfortable seat by the fireplace, a 65-year-old East Liverpool native is preparing to head for the wild and mountainous country of Afghanistan as a Peace Corps volunteer.

He is George I. Zollinger of Denver, brother of Council Clerk Lawrence J. Zollinger and a retired employee of United Airlines.

Zollinger is scheduled to report to Brattleboro, Vt., Oct. 26 to begin three months' training for his Peace Corps duty as a statistical expert.

Because he was a statistician with the airline for more than 25 years before he retired in February, he has been assigned to set up a statistical system for the nation of 13 million that lies in the mountains north of Pakistan.

At Brattleboro, he will be instructed in the native tongue, predominantly Persian, and learn the customs of the natives.

Zollinger volunteered for the Peace Corps shortly after his retirement from United Airlines. He stopped off in East Liverpool last weekend for a visit with his brother and his wife, en route back to Denver after stops in Chicago, Washington and Miami.

A globe-trotter most of his adult life — taking advantage of free transportation as an airline employee — he has visited most of the countries of the civilized world.

But when he left East Liverpool, he was en route to California to visit — of all places — Disneyland. He told his brother that although he had been around the world several times and seen most of its natural and man-made wonders, he never had seen Walt Disney's amusement park in Southern California.

While there, he expected to visit with his nephew — Lawrence Zollinger's son — William Zollinger of Garden Grove, Calif.

The Peace Corps volunteer said he will be paid $2 a day, plus room and board, during his service in Afghanistan. The Peace Corps also allots a token salary of $75 monthly, but it will be paid in a lump sum upon his return to the States.

Zollinger will be permitted to take 45 pounds of luggage with

Chances Seen As Zero

Hoffa Will Try To Get Union Back In AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, the tough little giant of the labor world, is looking toward a new try at bringing his Teamsters union back into the fold of the AFL-CIO next month.

But labor sources say his chances this year remain about the same as they have been since the Teamsters were ousted from the AFL-CIO on corruption charges in 1957—zero.

The conditions set by AFL-CIO President George Meany for the return of the Teamsters are unchanged:

1. Getting rid of Hoffa as president of the Teamsters — the world's largest union with about 1.7 million members.
 2. Assurances that the controversial Teamsters will live up to the constitution of the AFL-CIO.
- Hoffa, who said in Detroit earlier this week that "it is only a matter of time until the Teamsters are back in the AFL-CIO" apparently won't personally lead him on the flight to Afghanistan and ship another 190 pounds later.

He pointed out Afghanistan is a backward nation that lies at elevations of 4,000 feet or more. A constitutional monarchy, it never has had an orderly bureau of government statistics.

Zollinger's principal job will be to organize such a bureau, keeping track of imports and exports, agricultural production and the yield of minerals. The nation raises sheep and grows fruit. Wool and skins comprise its principal exports.

The squadron has been given a building located near Stratton. No decision has been reached on moving it.

The squadron is constructing a headquarters at the Johnston Airport at Hillcrest.

Next meeting is Wednesday night at 7 at the school.

Township Firemen Will Conduct Auction

Plans for a public auction Nov. 9 at 7 p. m. at the station were discussed by Liverpool Township West Volunteer firemen at a meeting Wednesday night at the LaCroft station.

Anyone with articles to donate may call FU, 6-6115, FU, 5-1789 or FU, 6-5033 for pickup.

A two-way radio has been ordered for the emergency truck and delivery is expected in about eight weeks.

Jesse Watkins was reinstated as a second class fireman and William Elliott was granted a leave of absence to serve in the Army.

Strange Series . . .

The long football series between East Liverpool and Martins Ferry, which stopped in 1957, was a strange one record-wise.

The series started back in 1913 with Ferry winning 35-0, and this seemed to set the pattern for the years to follow up until the 1950's.

In 26 games played until 1950, the Potters won only three with victories coming in 1937, 1944 and 1945. Beginning with the 1950 game, East Liverpool never lost to the Purple Riders, winning eight straight before the two schools stopped playing. Ferry leads the series 23-11.

Martins Ferry wasn't only losing to East Liverpool during the 50's but to almost every opponent.

This brought the Martins Ferry officials around to an easier schedule and this meant dropping East Liverpool.

Buckley Given Credit . . .

At this time a former East Liverpool assistant coach — Hayden Buckley — stepped into the picture and is given much credit today in Martins Ferry sports circles for putting the Purple Riders back on the football map.

Buckley was on the staff at ELHS under Lou Venditti before being named head coach at Martins Ferry.

In no time, Buckley brought a winning atmosphere back to Martins Ferry, finally coming up with an undefeated season which saw the Riders ranked among the top in the state.

This, according to Bill Vanhorne, sports editor at Martins Ferry, put football interest back to a peak. Buckley departed the scene by joining Bill Elias, former Martins Ferry great, on the coaching staff at George Washington University.

Bob Wion, the present Rider coach, stepped in after Buckley and before Martins Ferry lost a game the Purple and White had hung up 32 straight victories.

In their last 50 games, Martins Ferry has lost only three, a record which could stand up against almost any in Ohio with the exception of the powerful Niles squad.

Buckley is now an assistant coach under Elias at the University of Virginia.

Surprise Rally Held . . .

THE POTTER football team was surprised Thursday afternoon when a pep rally was held while the team was running through drills at Patterson Field.

A "pep band" and some 200 high school students marched on the field to cheer the Potters as they prepared for tonight's contest with Martins Ferry.

Follow The Bouncing Ball . . .

WE WERE right on eight of 11 picks last week but an unlucky number of 13 tilts are on tap this weekend as we wait to see how the ball bounces this time.

We picked the Potters to tie Rayen last week and felt it was an even game, everything that is, but the score. Tonight the Potters tackle another power-packed squad in Martins Ferry.

We are picking East Liverpool the underdog in this one and saying Martins Ferry by a 22-14 margin.

The Salem-Wellsville game looks like a win for the Quakers, 28-6, while Oak Glen faces undefeated Bellaire St. John's with the Irish a 32-0 favorite.

We like Beaver Local by a 20-14 margin over Carrollton in the homecoming game at Williamsport while Columbiana should handle Sebring 28-6 and Minerva over East Palestine 22-14.

Reserving the big one in the county tonight until last, we feel Louisville has a little too much artillery for the Lisbon Blue Devils as two fine football teams meet for what should decide the Tri-County title. Louisville 26, Lisbon 14.

Turning to Saturday's games, Hopewell rates a 14-12 edge over Midland while Stanton Local looks like a 20-14 winner over Crestview. Southern Local should waltz 28-0 at Conotton Valley, United over Warren St. Mary's 28-14, Poland to halt Leetonia, 16-6, and Avonworth over South Side, 24-6.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

THERE may be another Don Carter in the making at the Tri-State Lanes in Calcutta.

Steve Chadwell, a 15-year-old student at East Liverpool High School, rolled a 613 series last week in the Tri-State Junior League for high school boys.

Young Steve fashioned games of 212, 213 and 188 a week before that he came up with a 585 set.

KEN IVAN, who kicked the thrilling 22-yard field goal to give Notre Dame a 17-14 win over Southern California Saturday, played high school ball at Massillon. He is a sophomore and played basketball against the Potters three years ago.

TOM MYERS of East Liverpool may receive an opportunity to play against Roger Staubach and his Navy mates Saturday when VMI meets the midshipmen at Norfolk.

Myers is a fullback on the second unit at VMI.

Umpires Form Union In National League

CINCINNATI (AP)—National League umpires may have set up a union, but the league office remains in complete control.

"It was made definite and clear there would be no change whatever in the jurisdiction of the league office in administering all the affairs involving the umpire staff, as in the past," league President Warren C. Giles said Thursday after a meeting with three directors of the newly organized Association of National Baseball League Umpires.

The association's purposes include improving the umpire retirement plan, changing the rotation of umpires assigned to work the World Series and All-Star game, and determining whether all umpires should share in World Series money.

The Houston Colt .45s hit only 62 home runs during the 1963 National League season.

TACOMA, Wash.—Irish Bob McKinney, 174, Tacoma, Wash., stopped Carlos Mendoza, 177, Portland, Ore., 3.

Phils Name Myatt

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — George Myatt, 49, a 16-year veteran of organized baseball, has been appointed third base coach of the Philadelphia Phillies.

When Hank Bauer, present Baltimore coach, played for the Yankees, he hit safely in 17 straight World Series games.

Potters Out To Sidetrack Unbeaten Ferry Tonight In Renewal Of Series

East Liverpool will be attempting to win away from home tonight from a team that has lost only three games in 50 starts when the Potters invade Martins Ferry. Kickoff is set for 8 p. m.

Martins Ferry, riding along undefeated with five victories and a tie, rates a slight edge as the series between the river-front rivals is renewed.

BEFORE the series between the schools stopped in 1957, the Potters had racked up eight straight victories and will be shooting for their ninth tonight.

Bob Hedmond, Potter head coach, announced that Mike Snowden, a 190-pound junior, would start at guard tonight in place of the injured Ron Echols. Echols, a handyman on defense for the Blue and White, was injured early in the Rayen game last week.

"WE ARE converting Snowden from a tackle on offense to a guard and from a linebacker on defense. He has been our eighth lineman all season and we feel he'll give us 100 per cent," Hedmond said.

The other Potter regulars are in good shape, including quarterback Bob Forzano who has recovered from a rib injury.

HEDMOND doesn't rate Martins Ferry as strong as Rayen on the interior line but feels the Purple Riders have a better balanced team.

"They have good size and Bob DiStefano is the best quarter-

The backfield is big and well-balanced," Hedmond added.

The Potter mentor saw Martins Ferry play New Philadelphia to a 14-14 tie, the same team the Potters defeated 20-0.

"A BREAK here or there could mean the difference in tonight's game. I feel it will be an even battle. Our boys have been in good spirits this week and they seem eager," Hedmond said.

Martins Ferry's offensive line will average 192 pounds while the lightest member of the backfield is Charles Toundas at 165.

DISTEFANO, a three-year letterman, is the trigger man for the Riders. He is a clever ball-handler, runs and throws well. Rich McFarland (185) is another three-year letterman who will be starting at left halfback. Frank West, (198), rated the best all-around player on the Ferry squad, will start at fullback.

Martins Ferry, rated eighth in the state by the UPI, shows victories over Canton McKinley, Marietta, Wheeling, St. Clairsville and Wheeling Linsly. The only blemish is the tie with New Philly.

Louisville, Lisbon Clash

Oak Glen Faces Unbeaten Irish; 7 Contests On Tap

While Lisbon and Louisville are having their showdown battle in the Tri-County League tonight, Oak Glen, fresh from its first victory of the season, meets an undefeated Bellaire St. John's team at Newell.

The Irish of St. John's visits the district with a 6-0 mark and last week came up with a big victory over Bellaire. Oak Glen upset Follansbee last Friday and has a 1-4 mark to take into tonight's game.

TONIGHT will also mark Oak Glen's first homecoming.

Other homecoming battles tonight can be found at Wellsville and Beaver Local.

Coach Ken Woods' Tigers plays host to the Salem Quakers who will depend mainly on the rushing of fullback George Begalla, a 200-pound back.

Carrollton in the midst of one of its worst seasons visits Beaver Local where the Beavers will be seeking their third win in seven outings.

LISBON has a two-fold mission tonight as Coach Bud Bucher's team prepares for the invasion of a strong Louisville outfit.

A six-game winning streak and the Tri-County title will be placed on the line tonight. Lisbon has a 4-0 League mark while Louisville is 3-0. Tonight's game should decide the championship.

LOUISVILLE warmed up for tonight's battle by sinking Poland last week by a 78-8 romp.

In other games, Sebring visits Columbiana while East seeks its fifth win against a strong Minerva outfit.

Saturday finds a six-game schedule with Midland going to Hopewell while Leetonia and Poland meet in an afternoon game in the Tri-County League.

STANTON LOCAL has a date at Crestview and Southern Local looks for an easy time at Conotton Valley.

United will be looking for win No. 5 at Warren St. Mary's and South Side, still seeking its first win, goes to Avonworth.

Radatz Cited Leading Soph

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP)—Dick Radatz, the Boston Red Sox relief giant, drove from Boston to his home here Thursday unaware that he'd been named the outstanding second-year player in the American League.

"Gee, I didn't know that," Radatz said Thursday night. "Say, that's a real honor...quite a thrill."

The 26-year-old Royal Oak fastballer was voted the AL's top sophomore performer of 1963 in the annual Associated Press poll.

Radatz won 15 games, lost six and saved 17 others for the seventh place Red Sox. He recorded 162 strikeouts in 123 2-3 innings.

The 6-foot-6, 235-pound Radatz—nicknamed The Monster—especially was glad that his 1963 record topped his previous season when, as a rookie, he won nine and lost six.

"I didn't want to have people think my first year was a fluke," Radatz said.

Celtics Nip Cincy; Heyman In Debut

NEW YORK (AP) — "This boy," said New York Coach Eddie Donovan, "is not a savior."

"He is a good basketball player and is going to be a very good pro, after he makes some adjustments, but he is not a savior."

Donovan made the remarks just moments before Art Heyman, collegiate Player of the Year last season, made his professional debut Thursday night with the Knicks. Donovan proved to be a prophet.

Heyman proved to be a very good basketball player, finishing with 19 points and often serving as the floor leader.

But he was not a savior. The Knicks, who finished in last place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association last season, lost again, 115-113, to the new Baltimore Bullets, nee the Chicago Zephyrs.

In Cincinnati, the long-time champion Boston Celtics edged the improved Royals 93-92 for the Celts' second straight victory.

Result: With the season less than 48 hours old the Knicks were again in last place, 1½ games back of Boston. A savior still was needed.

"I can't say I was disappointed in the game," Heyman, a 6-foot-5 product of Duke said. "But it sure wasn't my best game. I missed too many, but those guys make you miss."

He hit on eight of 24 shots and demonstrated he can drive with the pros as well as hook and jump.

Now, about those adjustments:

"It's as much mental as physical," Donovan said. "It's a challenge and a strain on a kid coming in this league. It takes the right mental attitude."

NORM NICOLA, 235-pound junior center from Canton Central, is shown with the bust of Knute Rockne which was presented to him as the outstanding player for his performance in Notre Dame's victory over Southern California last week. (UPI Telephoto)

N. Illinois Tops Small College Poll

Northern Illinois, paced to five straight victories by remarkable George Bork, landed the top spot in the first weekly Associated Press ranking of the nation's small college football teams.

Unbeaten Florida A&M and Texas A&I also drew powerful support for No. 1 ranking from the special panel. Delaware, Wittenberg, San Diego State and St. John's of Minnesota were close behind.

Kearney, Neb. State, Clarion, Pa. State, College of Emporia, Kan., and McNeese State, La. rounded out the Top Ten with the last two tied for 10th place.

On the basis of ten for first, nine for second, etc., Northern Illinois got 63 points compared to 57 for Florida A&M and 40 for Texas A&I. Northern Illinois is unbeaten and untied in five games behind Bork, the nation's leading passer for two years. Texas A&I has won four. Florida A&M has won two games this season, extending its winning streak to 23.

The Top Ten:
1. Northern Illinois 63
2. Florida A&M 57
3. Texas A&I 40
4. Delaware 31
5. Wittenberg 30
6. San Diego State 26

Koufax, Peters ERA Champions

NEW YORK (AP) — Left-handers Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox won the 1963 earned run championships in the Major Leagues, the final averages disclosed Friday.

Koufax, a 25-game winner, captured the National League title with a 1.88 mark—the lowest in the circuit since Howie Pollet posted 1.75 in 1943. The Dodgers' ace allowed only 65 earned runs in 311 innings and pitched 11 shutouts—the big league high.

Peters, who had a 19-8 record, topped the American League with a 2.33 average.

Ohio State Rated 3-Point Underdog In Battle With USC

Raaphorst Looms Big Difference

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The odds - follows figure unbeaten Ohio State is a three-point underdog for Saturday's 12th tussle with Southern California's defending national champions at Los Angeles.

But the twice-trimmed Trojans could lose that three-point edge in a hurry if they allow the Buckeyes to get within rifle-shot of the goal line, for in his last two games Dick Van Raaphorst has booted 48 and 49-yard field goals—the longest ever kicked in the Big Ten.

Ohio State holds a 6-4-1 advantage over Southern Cal since 1937, including a 20-7 verdict in the 1955 Rose Bowl.

The Trojans, filled with returning talent, have scored two touchdowns in each game while winning over Colorado and Michigan State and losing to Oklahoma and Notre Dame.

The Bucks flew to the Coast this morning and were due to work out in the afternoon. They will head home immediately after the contest to concentrate on plans for next week's invasion of Wisconsin.

While the Bucks are having their intersectional fling, the schedule for the stay-at-homes offers some bright spectacles on the Ohio gridirons.

Ohio Northern and John Carroll, each unbeaten, tangle Saturday night at Ada in a game certain to cut into the state's four-team unblemished contingent. Bluffton and Ashland, each 4-1, battle for the Mid-Ohio Conference lead at Bluffton.

Ohio University, loser to Toledo by a single point last week, goes against unbeaten Delaware at Athens, while the rebounding Rockets face Bowling Green's four-game winners on the latter's grid.

Among the more interesting frays is Miami's encounter with Northwestern at Evanston. The Redskins, in the last nine seasons, have taken on Big Ten opponents six times and have beaten three of them.

Saturday's slate:

MID-AMERICAN: Toledo (1-3) at Bowling Green (4-0); Kent State (0-2-1) at Western Michigan (0-4).

OHIO CONFERENCE: Kenyon (0-3) at Capital (1-2); Marietta (2-2) at Wittenberg (3-0-1); Denison (4-0) at Mount Union (1-3); Akron (3-1) at Wooster (1-3); Ohio Wesleyan (1-2-1) at Oberlin (1-2); Heidelberg (0-3-1) at Muskingum (2-2); Otterbein (2-1-1) at Hiram (1-2).

PRESIDENTS: Wayne State (0-2) at Western Reserve (0-1-1); Case Tech (1-1) at Bethany (1-1).

NON-CONFERENCE: Ohio State (2-0-1) at Southern Cal (2-2); Miami (2-1-1) at Northwestern (3-1); Central State (3-1) at Tennessee A & I; Delaware (3-0) at Ohio University (2-2); Detroit (1-3) at Cincinnati (3-1); Hillsdale at Baldwin-Wallace (3-1); Xavier (1-2-1) at Dayton (1-3) (N); Eastern Michigan at Findlay (3-2) (N), and John Carroll (2-0) at Ohio Northern (5-0) (N).

Texas Meets Dangerous Arkansas; WVU Primed To Upset No. 3 Pitt

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The nation's major college football teams shift their attention from cross-country feuding to backyard squabbles this weekend, but it just means a change to homegrown trouble for most of the ranked teams.

Seven of the Top Ten teams have conference games scheduled Saturday, and all but one could be placing their high standing in jeopardy.

Only bulky Mississippi, 2-0-1 for the season and No. 5 in the nation, ranks as a top-sided favorite against Tulane, which has scored only 10 points in losing four straight, in a Southeast Conference affair.

The other ranked teams going against conference opponents—No. 1 Texas, No. 2 Wisconsin, No. 6 Oklahoma, No. 7 Illinois, No. 8 Georgia Tech and No. 9 Alabama—anticipate much tougher opposition.

One of the big ones takes place in Little Rock Saturday night where the Razorbacks, 2-2, will try to stop mighty Texas, 4-0. Arkansas, co-favorite to win the Southwest Conference title in the pre-season picking, was shocked 14-10 at Baylor last week.

Texas displayed a brutal ground game in knocking over Oklahoma 28-7 last week and taking over the nation's No. 1 spot.

The Big Ten lead goes on the line in Iowa City where unbeaten Wisconsin takes on Iowa. They are tied for the top with 1-0 league marks. Wisconsin is 3-0 over-all and Iowa is 2-0-1.

Another Big Ten match has seventh-ranked Illinois, tied for third with a 1-0-1 league mark, at home against a Minnesota team that may be better than its 1-2 record would indicate.

Oklahoma, now 2-1, opens its Big Eight play against Kansas, 2-2.

The feature of the Southeast Conference schedule could be the test of Georgia Tech by Auburn. Bobby Dodd's Engineers are eighth in the nation and 3-1 over-all, but Auburn comes into it unbeaten in four games and a definite threat.

Another big one has ninth-ranked Alabama, 3-1, vs. Tennessee, 1-3, at Birmingham.

Third ranked and unbeaten Pitt travels to West Virginia. The Mountaineers are 2-2 and could be primed for an upset.

Among the other ranked teams, No. 4 Ohio State, 2-0-1, visits Southern California, 2-2. Navy, 3-1 and tied for 10th, plays Virginia Military, 1-2-1 at Norfolk. Northwestern, 3-1 and sharing the No. 10 spot, is at home against Miami of Ohio, 2-1-1.

Difference In Weight Big? In Boxing Death

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore grand jury, investigating the death of boxer Ernie Knox, is expected to hear testimony today from the chairman of the Maryland Athletic Commission.

Also subpoenaed before the panel were the two commission physicians who examined Knox and his Monday night opponent, and the two weigh-in inspectors.

Knox, a 26-year-old Baltimore boxer, was knocked out in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-round heavyweight bout by Wayne Bethea, a 31-year-old former title contender from New York.

Sitting down when he was counted out, Knox toppled over and was unconscious for 10 minutes before being removed from the ring on a stretcher. He was admitted to a hospital, where he went into a coma at 1 a.m. Tuesday and died about 6 a.m. Wednesday of a brain hemorrhage.

There was an immediate outcry in some quarters for the abolition or more stringent controls of boxing. But the death was not considered a matter for the grand jury to investigate until a medical examiner reported Thursday that Knox's body weighed only 153 pounds.

At noon time Monday, Knox weighed in at 178 pounds, as compared with 205 for Bethea.

Jack Cohen, executive secretary of the Athletic Commission, and Dr. Charles Tommasello, one of the commission's physicians, both confirmed that Knox weighed 178.

But an autopsy report by Dr. Charles S. Petty, assistant medical examiner, said the body weighed 153 pounds on the scale at the city morgue.

The New York Yankees scored only four runs in the 1963 World Series and all were scored in the last three innings.

Harvard Stadium was dedicated on Nov. 14, 1963.

NEW YORK (AP)—Green Bay's seasoned defending champions and the ambitious St. Louis Cardinals meet Sunday in an important National Football League game that could decide the fate of both clubs.

Since losing their opening game to Chicago, the Packers have rolled to four straight victories on their way to a Nov. 17 rematch with the Bears. The youthful Cardinals, who split two with tough Pittsburgh, are only one game behind unbeaten Cleveland in the Eastern Conference. Wally Lemm's Cards still are smarting from the memory of their 17-0 defeat by Green Bay last year.

The game in St. Louis tops the card for the weekend. The two unbeaten teams, Chicago and Cleveland, are expected to roll along, the Bears at Los Angeles and the Browns at home against Philadelphia. Roman Gabriel gets his shot at quarterback for Los Angeles in the Coliseum against the Minnesota Vikings. Don Shula leads his Baltimore team against his old Detroit teammates for the first time at Detroit. Dallas visits New York to find the Giants crawling out of the wreckage left by Jimmy Brown and Washington visits Pittsburgh, giving Ed Brown a chance to limber up his passing arm.

In the American Football League, a Friday night game finds Denver at Boston. On Sunday afternoon there are three more rematches from the program of three weeks ago. San Diego is at Kansas City. Buffalo at Houston and New York at Oakland. In their first meetings, Denver, San Diego, Houston and New York won.

Last week was a little better with the picks, except for the Cleveland game, so the season figure now is 31-20-2. If we could only get even in that AFL. Here goes again, all games Sunday unless otherwise noted.

NFL

St. Louis 28, Green Bay 24—upset of the week. Packers' front four will rush Charlie Johnson like he never has been rushed before but the kid has it. If Green Bay can give the Vikings 28 points, no reason the Cards' balanced offense can't get as many.

Cleveland 35, Philadelphia 21—Browns may let down after beating Giants but they pack too much power for the chopped up Eagles.

Chicago 28, San Francisco 10—Bears run it up as high as they want on last stop of their California junket.

Baltimore 20, Detroit 17—Shula wants this one the worst way against his old Lion buddies. Detroit toughest in league on pass defense but Johnny Unitas will find a way.

Minnesota 28, Los Angeles 14—Vikings can score but have trouble stopping anybody. Tommy Mason should have a big day.

New York 28, Dallas 17—Y.A. Tittle picked the Cowboys apart last year, why not now when they are 1-4?

Pittsburgh 23, Washington 14—Steelers too tough for Skins leaky defense.

Unknown Pro Leading In Sahara Golf

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Golf's overpowering Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus ranked in the also-ran class as a little-known California professional, Al Geiberger, led the way into the second round of the $70,000 Sahara Invitational Tournament today.

Palmer, troubled by chronic shoulder aches, trailed by four strokes and Nicklaus by eight as the field swung toward the 36-hole point of this sixth annual event on the PGA autumn circuit.

The 26-year-old Geiberger, whose only official PGA tournament victory was registered just one year ago in the Ontario, Calif., Open, shot a 35-32-67 opening round Thursday.

One shot back as play was resumed, and the sponsors hoped for no rain, were Art Wall Jr., Lionel Hebert and Gay Brewer.

A cloudburst hit the Paradise Country Club course with a quarter of the field still playing.

Eight players were tied at 69, including tournament veterans Don January and Ted Kroll, British Ryder Cup member George Will and Canada's George Knudson.

Geiberger, club professional at San Diego's Carlton Oaks, knocked off four birdies with nary a bogey in taking the lead.

Palmer is still bothered by his bursitis condition.

Nicklaus quite abruptly was three over par on the first three holes, thanks mainly to a double bogey on the second hole.

Board To Prepare Supplies For Nov. 5 General Election

The Columbiana County Election Board is making preparations to pack precinct supplies that will be distributed to presiding judges for the Nov. 5 general election, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

Poll books already have been delivered and the board's contract with the Wellsville Publishing Co. provides that all ballots will be delivered not later than noon on Saturday, Oct. 26, O'Hanlon said.

The Election Board will pack precinct supplies at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 28, at its office in the Courthouse at Lisbon for the East Liverpool and Wellsville districts will be packed Wednesday, Oct. 30, at the board's office on W. 6th St.

Instructions will be sent Monday to presiding judges to call for the supplies, O'Hanlon said. The supplies for the northern section of the county will be distributed at the Courthouse Saturday, Nov. 2, from 9 to 11 a.m. Those for the East Liverpool district will be handed out Monday, Nov. 4, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the board's East Liverpool office.

Supplies for the Wellsville district will be distributed Nov. 4 at 6:45 p.m. at Wellsville City Hall.

Meanwhile, O'Hanlon pointed out that the deadline falls at 4 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 31, for issuance of civilian absentee voters' ballots. They must be returned to the board's office by noon Nov. 1 if they're to be counted at the polls on Election Day.

So-called "soldier ballots" for persons in the armed forces and civilians residing temporarily outside the U. S. may be distributed until noon on Saturday, Nov. 2. They may be returned as late as noon on Election Day.

Assistant clerks will be assigned to go to nursing homes and hospitals to assist applicants in voting disabled voters' ballots — if any are requested — O'Hanlon said.

So far, no resident of an institution has requested a disabled voter's ballot, he said. The deadline is Oct. 31 at 4 p.m., the same as for civilian absentee voters' ballots.

In obtaining a civilian absentee ballot, the applicant must certify that he will be outside Columbiana County and at least 10 miles from his home precinct on Election Day. Those seeking disabled voters' ballots must certify they are unable to go to the polls because of illness or infirmity. A physicians' certificate is required.

For the second time in two days, students at Glenmoor School were dismissed at noon because of a water shortage resulting from the short drought.

"It strictly is a problem of the water level in the well falling," Asst. Supt. George Hargraves said. The pump is not defective, he added.

When school resumed this morning, a full supply was in the basement tank but by noon time only dribbles could be secured from the fountains. The pump was working steadily but little or no water was being received.

Hargraves said classes will resume Monday but operation probably will be continued on a day-to-day basis.

The school's 289 students in the first six grades were sent home at the end of morning classes yesterday because of an insufficient water supply.

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make my own furniture wash at home?
A. One very good one is made of three tablespoons of boiled linseed oil and two tablespoons of pure gum turpentine added to one quart of hot water. Mix well and allow it to cool. Wring a soft cloth out of this mixture and clean a small area at a time, wiping each section dry as you proceed. No rinsing is necessary. Polish the furniture after it has dried completely.

Q. What can I do about tin plates in which food has burned?
A. Fill the plate with water, add a handful of sal soda, and boil. Repeat this process if not completely successful the first time.

Q. What can I do about alcohol stains on furniture — such as cocktails, perfumes, lotions, and medicines?
A. Wipe them up instantly when they are spilled, and rub the spot quickly with the palm of your hand or with a cloth moistened with an oil polish. Alcohol is a powerful solvent that dissolves some finishes. Light stains from alcohol mixtures, even when old, can sometimes be removed with rottenstone and linseed oil.

Q. How can I clean velour upholstery, and other soft-finish upholstery?
A. This will brighten up with dry-cleaning fluid applied with a piece of cheesecloth. Brush up the nap afterward with a soft brush.

Q. How can I remove iodine stains from my hands?
A. By rubbing with a slice of lemon or a slice of raw potato.

Q. How can I weatherproof a pair of my son's leather shoes?
A. Apply hot ski wax to the leather, rubbing in briskly with a stiff brush. After the wax is set, rub with a cloth. This ski wax is very effective for keeping the leather rainproof and springy.

Junior Editors Quiz on TASTE

QUESTION: How do we taste things?

ANSWER: It is said that everything we taste can be divided into four main groups—either salty, bitter, sour, sweet, or some combination of these. All of us know that it is the tongue which does our tasting, but few realize that different parts of the tongue are especially responsive to these main kinds of taste. In the upper left we look down on the tongue and show where these sensitive areas are. Notice that the center of the tongue does not register taste.

Taste is really the reaction of the taste bud, located on the tongue, to the chemicals in materials we take into our mouths. The membrane of the tongue has many little pits (lower right). These are lined with minute taste buds, the point of each one projecting into the pit. When the material to be tasted is turned by the saliva into liquid, it fills the little pits. Then the points of the taste buds are passed along a nerve connecting all of them to a "taste center" in the brain. This center interprets the reaction as either sweet, sour, salty or bitter. The sense of taste has great value—for instance, it tells us when food is mouldy and should not be eaten.

FOR YOU TO DO: Put your tongue out and put a little sugar on the tip. Notice that as long as you hold your tongue free you don't taste much. Now move your tongue around the inside of your mouth and notice the sweet taste suddenly come. The little pits have filled up.

Kathy Bogart of Clifton Springs, N. Y., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

Red Skelton Lauded For Endurance

At a testimonial luncheon for Red Skelton in Hollywood not long ago, I suddenly realized what's really wrong with television. Statistics, not talent, are what count most with the men running it.

Red, for example, was being feted by the Los Angeles Advertising Club because one of his sponsors had signed up Red for a 10th year. Skelton career—"13 years on TV with a regular weekly show outstrips all other comedians; he has done 500 programs; he was the first entertainment program on the coaxial cable; he never has been out of Nielsen rating 'Top 15,'" and so on.

IT WAS LIKE reading a chart on Stan Musial or Candy Spots, the race horse. And the tenor of the speeches ran the same way. The president of the sponsoring company told how Red earns his pay by being a good salesman ("and in this world nothing happens until somebody sells something").

In a moment of frivolousness the sponsor company's president told Red that the next time the comedian came to visit the plant in Racine he'd find all the pretty girls gone.

"They've been replaced by computers," he said.

I'm sure it must have crossed Red's alert mind to ask if the sponsor were working on a computer to tell jokes on TV, but he wouldn't dare—even in jest—because, by gad, they probably are.

VERY LITTLE was said during the proceedings about Red's great talent for instant mimicry, which displayed at the luncheon by pantomiming the introductory bows of a score or more officials on the dais.

I got the distinct feeling from the speakers—including CBS-TV president James T. Aubrey Jr.—that they were there to eulogize the statistical records Red has amassed, not the man himself.

Someone might have mentioned the times during his 13 years of TV when Red wasn't sure he could pick himself up off the floor from one of his comedy falls. His innards virtually had made a 180-degree turn from years of such acrobatics, and Red finally, after many trips to the hospital, had to undergo major surgery.

THIS WEEKLY GRIND of TV, to which sponsors and network executives pay homage, actually dulls the talents of a man like Red. He isn't given the time to tap all his resources. Before his TV career, Red created routines like the dough-
